

ESSEX ENGINEERS LIVE 2003.

9TH April 2003; 6.00pm to 9.00pm; Rivermead Campus, APU, Chelmsford.

Object: To pull together Essex engineering companies, engineers and other interested parties to enjoy an evening of networking and discussion to their mutual benefit.

How?

- Browse around the stands of engineering companies, business agencies and educational establishments in Essex,
- Chat to engineers from other fields,
- Any jobs going?
- Find out about the IEE mentoring schemes and membership benefits.
- Take in some CPD with a mini lecture on how an Essex Company is pioneering energy generation from wave power.
- Find out how small companies can benefit from the SMART and NESTA award schemes which makes grants available for product development.
- Will getting Chartered Engineer status help me?
- Poster session with other interesting subjects.

Where? Sawyers Building, Rivermead Campus, APU, Chelmsford. CM1 1SQ. See www.anglia.ac.uk/about/chelmaps.

When? Between 6.00pm and 9.00pm on 9th April 2003.

Who? We would like to hear from any Company in Essex or the neighbouring counties who would like space at the event either for a stand to recruit or just wave the flag. Also if you would like a poster space or a five minute slot to talk about what you do – get in touch. There is no charge.

Students and engineers in Essex and elsewhere are welcome to come along, grab a sandwich and see what's on. Also if you are not an engineer please come along and ask questions and keep our feet on the ground!

For the third year running, Essex IEE (Institution of Electrical Engineers) with the kind assistance of APU is staging the Essex Engineers Live event at Anglia Polytechnic University (APU). All are welcome.
